

Monica Lewinsky Says:

“Now, when I have a tough stain, I SHOUT it out!”

One little slip can ruin a really great dress. It used to be that when I spilled something on a dress, that was it. No use trying to wash it in a harsh detergent – the dress would be ruined. Dry cleaners were no help. Eventually, I started throwing my dirty dresses in the closet and forgot about them. Pretty soon I had a whole closet filled to the gills with soiled dresses! Little did I know how much trouble this would cause for me later. Then I discovered SHOUT stain remover. It takes out any stain safely, without ruining the fabric. Ink, spaghetti sauce, bodily fluids, you name it! If only I had known!
