

The kids won't go postal. You have Bible Verse Wallpaper™

Your worry about your kids. You worry about the food they eat, the strange friends they hang out with, and if their teachers might be corrupting their young minds by teaching them about evolution. Most of all, you worry about whether little Johnny, influenced by a violent movie, video game or Marilyn Manson song, might creep up the stairs into your bedroom, slowly open your dresser drawer, lovingly pull out your new Glock, press the barrel quietly to your head and whisper, "Game over, man!"

That's why you need Bible Verse Wallpaper! The moral influences visible on the wall of your bedroom, kitchen, or bathroom will counteract the evil influences around your children. Once you hang it up, you can practically feel the goodness flowing from the walls on to you and your family. Yes, even sitting in the corner can now be a morally uplifting experience!

Bible Verse Wallpaper is also perfect for the walls of courtrooms, public schools, government offices... yes, even prisons!
